

What to expect at the Bachelor Day @ICN Business School Campus Nürnberg

We offer you the opportunity, to be a student for one day and experience student life in small workshops and presentations lectured by our professors.

We start with the presentation of the campus and a first introduction of the academic office. Following this introduction, you can attend the workshops which interest you the most.

During lunch break we provide you with beverages and food. Furthermore you will have the chance to meet students from the campus and talk to our professors.

We end this exciting day with a last get-together.

For interested parties who already applied for either our Bachelor or Master study program at this point the admission interviews will start.
